Entrance Information:

3130 Walnut Street. Philadelphia. PA. 19104

1. The lower entrance is level with an elevated cement platform around the building. There are stairs in front of the entrance. There is a ramp up to the elevated platform at the south side of the building. Once on the platform the lower level is accessible.
2. The Walnut St. entrance is not open to the public but arrangements can be made to gain entrance by calling ahead to 215.898.1575. This is the only wheelchair accessible entrance to the rink's upper level.
3. It is possible to reach the lower entrance grade level of the Class of 1923 Rink from Walnut Street by using the 3101 Walnut Street elevator, down to ground level and following the walk south. You will be required to pass through a parking lot under the Walnut Street Bridge and at times, share the driveway with vehicles.

Elevator Information:

- There are no elevators in this building.

Accessible Restrooms:

- Upper level - men's and women's
- There are no wheelchair accessible restrooms on the lower level.

Building Information:

- The rink has tiered seating. There is a corridor along the upper level of the rink where a person in a wheelchair could view events.
- The rink offices are down a flight of stairs from the entrance on Walnut St. and are not accessible.
- The Class of 1923 Ice Rink is built on a lower level than most of the surrounding buildings. To reach the lower entrance by vehicle you must travel east on Chestnut Street, turn right onto 31st Street and right onto Jones Way.
